Plans were made and application given for a United Service Organization to be located here

Plans were made and application given for a United Service Organization to be located here in a meeting with regional executives, W. F. Gaudell, Tuesday afternoon. Representatives from all the organizations in town were invited to hear the possibilities of the USO discussed by the representative who came here that afternoon.

Tentative plans were made for the location of the organization to be in the old gymnasium at the College where it will serve the men in uniform on the campus, and all service men who care to visit there.

Another meeting will be called by Mayor George Hart in the next week to make a permanent organization and appoint committees.

This is a program that Murray has needed for several months, and one that will make the service men happier and give local citizens a chance to serve in an organized manner.

Commander Edward C. Keefe, of the Navy of Murray State College, and Commander Raymond F. Finnegan, of the College Marines, were present at the meeting and expressed the need of this program.

War Fund Drive Is Far Short of Quota

Women Called To Work Residences; Ties Ends Drive

The War Fund Drive is nearly over, according to the calendar, but less than half over when measured by the money turned in by Bryan Tolley, treasurer. He reported Wednesday a total of $2,731.65 collected toward the quota of $7,400 for the county. The teams collecting in the business area of Murray have all reported some of the schools, said Mrs. Tolley in a report to Clifford Seiber, publicity chairman.

New Concord High School, through Prin Edward Cud turned in over $200 and is expected to raise more before October 31 when the drive ends.

The College section has reported that the grounds there are practically covered and will make a final check this week. Hazel High School is expected to send in her money, too. The Baptist church at Lynn Grove has reported a contribution. The sum total, according to the books is too little if Calloway is to meet her goal set.

Women Called To Work Residences; Ties Ends Drive

To meet the lagging situation, the women were called to work in the drive in a meeting Monday afternoon. These women are to select other community leaders to assist in a house-to-house canvass for collecting funds for the War Fund Drive. Women named to lead the residential drive are: Mrs. Maurice Crass, Mrs. Cecil Farris, Mrs. V. E. Windsor, Mrs. C. B. Landham, Mrs. Bertha Jones, Mrs. C. M. Graham, Mrs. Joe Baker, Mrs. Fannie B. Willis.

Of this list, Mrs. Bertha Jones is the only one who has reported her helpers. The list is: Mrs. Margaret Ruth Boaz, Mrs. Peter Kuhn, Mrs. Robert Habs, Mrs. George Overbey, Mrs. Preston Ordway, and Miss Frances Bradley.

Employees To Be Asked A group of business men and women who will solicit the employees of the town are: Fred Workman, Grover Wood, James T. C. Collie, Everett Jones, Lavern Wallis, O. B. Boone, Wells Purdom, Charles Oakley, and Misses Mary Lou Waggoner, Frances Sexton, Neva Gray Langston, and Mrs. Hillard Rogers.

$450 In Prizes Offered In Beef Cattle Show Nov. 6

Purebred Breeding Cattle Sale Set For Second Day

According to an announcement this week, the Calloway County Fair Bureau is offering $450.00 in prizes for the Annual Calloway County Beef Cattle Show and Sale to be held at the Murray Stockyards Monday and Tuesday, November 6 and 7.

Plans have been completed for the biggest show which the Fair Bureau has ever sponsored. Reports at the present time indicate that approximately 50 animals will be entered in the show, but a larger number than this is expected on the day of the show.

An added feature this year is the Purebred Breeding Cattle Sale which will be held on the day following the show. Indications are that some of the best Purebred Beef Cattle in the Purchase area will be offered for sale.

Everyone planning to enter the show is encouraged to continue feeding and breaking their animals to halter, and anyone having purebred breeding cattle for sale or desiring to buy some, are given a special invitation to attend this sale.

The complete premium list will be found on page 1, section 2 of this issue.

Judge Kelley Will Speak In Courtyard Saturday

Well Known For Her Work In The Juvenile Court

Judge Camille M. Kelley, Memphis, Tenn., nationally known woman judge of the Municipal Juvenile and Family Non-Support Court, Memphis, will speak in Murray Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the courtyard in the interest of the Democratic campaign. Judge Ira D. Smith, Hopkinsville, will introduce Mrs. Kelley.

"The Little Judge" as she is affectionately known in Memphis, is an expert on the problems of children and uses her philosophy that punishment of children should be used only when all else fails. She is credited with turning many wayward boys and girls into useful, happy citizens. Eighty per cent of the youngsters put on parole make good, and it is said that in Memphis there are no bad gangs.

In 1920 she was appointed Judge of the Juvenile Court and was the first woman in the South and the second in the nation to hold such office. Judge Kelley has been voted into office six times without opposition and has tried more than 40,000 cases of juvenile delinquency and dependency.

She was the only woman chosen to speak and was one of the three women to be asked to express herself on this momentous occasion.

She is in Who's Who in America. She spoke in September to the National Association of Women Lawyers in Chicago.

Judge Kelley's latest honor was to be made a member of the Board of Directors of the

TO THE VOTERS OF CALLOWAY COUNTY:

I had the great pleasure of hearing Ben Kilgore, in behalf of the candidacy of Roosevelt, Barkley and Gregory. Kilgore is a true Democrat, a friend to the farmer, and deserves the praise of them, and in the future should be given the opportunity to demonstrate his ability in positions of trust, where he may use his talent in their support.

In defeat of his own ambitions, he remained loyal, a challenge to many so-called politicians. He is doing more in this campaign for the Democratic Party than the opposition is able to do.

We may expect an aroused farmer vote in Calloway to head his warrent and come out and vote.

To Ben Kilgore Democracy is a faith and not just an ap-petite.

Well, I am in St. Louis this week trying to get out a few things our people so badly need for winter wear.

Come in and see us every time you are in town.

Let us all be patient and rock along until the loss of land resources will be absorbed in industrial activities, however, it is up to us to look out for such opportunities. We have lost the resources of our valley, and still we are not better off in securing the advantages of lower electricity rates, or other advantages than other counties in the radius of 100 miles from the lake who have lost no lands.

Like brave citizens we must now set out to make the best of it. We have to offer the industrialists a better town, with the advantages of a better school system including a college, all of which may be better enjoyed and used by workers in any type of industry. A good place to live with all the facilities it is that the way to describe a town with the leading denominations of religious faith. No. 1—it is easy to attend a Primitive Baptist church in the community, or the Missionary Baptist, the different branches of the church of the followers of Alexander Campbell, or the great organization of John Wesley, the Methodist; the Presbyterian and the Catholic, recent converts all of which we are proud thereby giving a free worshiper his choice. I may have left out some, but did not intend to do it.

Now we need some contact with the business interests of the country. And we certainly might ask no lesser organization than the TVA, as all counties along the valley who have lost lands are entitled to the aid of the TVA to rehabilitate them. The early birds get the heaviest plumage, it has been said.

The matter of a lease from the TVA of 1100 acres of land for wild life or a park in a rural section unpopulated, does not smack with a rehabilitation for lost revenue. This is a body of land worth an average of $3.00 per acre with a demand that Kentucky spend one-fourth million dollars in 19 years which will amount to $225.00 per acre and still belong to the TVA and be up for a new lease or disposition. This lease should have been for a period of 99 years, or something reasonable, or why should not have the TVA decided to back to the State of Kentucky, I can not see how the State can spend money on leased property that can not be removed.

I like the officials of the TVA. Many I have met, Mr. David Little, Mr. Harcourt Morgan, Mr. Brock and others, all capable men and have done a good job for the general public. Now we must camp at their office door for the things that it is necessary to repair in part for the losses sustained by us for the common good of our nation.

The east side of Calloway county must be organized and encouraged to plant orchards, vineyards and truck farms, and make it a good place in which to live as it has always been. That is the cradle of Calloway and all her developments from the first settlers more than 125 years ago.

WESTERN KENTUCKY CONFERENCE PLAY

In last week's gridiron play in the Western Kentucky Conference, Hopkinsville was idle and Owensboro moved 14-3, Murray. With the Murray High Tigers stepped up their chances for conference honors Friday night by topping the Bowling Green Purples, 35-19, in a thrilling encounter.

Covington, Murray back, rated by many as the outstanding player in the W.K.C. this season, put the crowd on its toes when he raced 90 yards for a touchdown with the opening kickoff. Murray remained ahead in the ball game until the third quarter when Bowling Green went into the lead only to be passed before the final whistle.

An intercepted pass and a fumble set up Murray's two markers in the final frame. Madisonville rushed over a surprising 30-6 triumph over Henderson, Mayfield's Cardinals got back into the win column by whitewashing McKenzie, Tenn., 19-0. Harrisburg, Ill., ran roughshod over Sturgis 34-0; Fulton lost 19-0 to Union City, Tenn.; Clarksville, Tenn., ousted Russellville 32-0; and Reitz Memorial of Evansville defeated Owensboro 20-0.

Tilghman of Paducah had little trouble in rolling over Trenton, Tenn., 25-5. Tilghman, however, is not a member of W.K.C.

around his own right end, Covington failed to gain at the line; Covington again got loose and went down the field for 10 yards to Bowling Green's 32. Covington, on a spinner, picked up 9 yards over guard with the quarter ended.

Russell hit the center of the line for 2 yards; Covington found 3 at left end; Russell punched the line for 2 and Murray drew an off-side penalty to move it 24 yards to the goal line. Ferguson went around his own right end for 5; Shroat recovered a loose ball on the 22; Ferguson's pass was knocked down and the ball went over to Bowling Green.

Heman for the Purples tore off right end for 15 yards; Allen added 1 yard at tackle. On the following play Captain Eddie Shroat had been playing his best game of the season, intercepted Heman's pass and raced 35 yards for a touchdown and the score was Murray 27, Bowling Green 19. Again Shroat made the extra point good through the line and Murray led 26-19.

After taking the ball on downs on their own 25 yard line, Murray again started to roll. Covington was held for no gain on the first play, however, on the following play he ran brilliantly for 36 yards after getting loose over right tackle. Offside and too many stunts out lost Bowling Green 15 yards. A 5 yard gain by Covington placed the ball on the 14; Russell hit the line for 1 yard and Covington could not get stopped until he had punched and hacked his way for 10 yards. Following line plunges by Russell and Covington, Captain Shroat smashed his way for 2 yards and a touchdown and Murray led 34-19. Bill Ferguson's placement was good and the score was 35-19, Murray.

The ball game ended with the ball in Bowling Green's possession on Murray's 30.

Murray will meet Marion at Marion Friday afternoon and the following week will be host to Hopkinsville, which game will probably draw the largest crowd in Western Kentucky that night. Both Hopkinsville and Murray have perfect standings with no losses this season.

Board of Education Approves Colored Building Program

In a meeting of the City Board of Education last week, Rev. T. H. Mullins, chairman of the Park Board Commission, and pastor of the Methodist church, appeared before the members in regard to a proposed plan for the building of a gymnasium and youth center for the Negro school.

The presentation was made in the form of a resolution from interested citizens, that was adopted by the board with hearty approval.

The resolution included the facts that the Board of Education recognized the need for a gymnasium and a recreation center at the Douglas High School and because of financial limitations, could not build the proposed building now.

It recommended that the Board endorse the project and further stated that all monies raised for this purpose should be turned over to the Murray Board of Education and to be earmarked for this purpose.

Thoroughbreds Will Meet Wesleyan at Bloomington, Illinois

Encouraged by their come-back power against Miami's Indians here Saturday night, Murray's Thoroughbreds are getting ready for their game with Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington, Ill., Saturday.

Although they lost 26-14 to Miami's undefeated eleven, the Bredos tied the score at 14-14 in the fourth after trailing 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Coach Roy Stewart expressed himself as pleased with the spirit and reserve power of his boys, but warned against any over-optimism that may have been inspired by a scout's reports of a weak Wesleyan team.

W. H. Hanes, 140-pound back from Lansing, Mich., has been promoted to first-string fullback. Stewart said today, as a result of his outstanding performance against the Indians.

Roland Yokum, 185-pound end from Ponce de Leon, La., and W. B. Slater, 189-pound end from Los Angeles, Calif., re-injured their ankles Saturday night and are receiving treatment. Bill Ring, 157-pound wingback, Harvey, Ill., has a sprained arm and Ed Caputo, 173-pound back from Kearney, High, N. J., has a broken finger.

Mrs. Seaver, a graduate of Murray State College, has had training along the lines of social service, library service, and has had experience that qualifies her for managing and buying materials for this shop. COLLEGE TO ADD
POULTRY BUILDING

Carman Says Regents
Approve Plans for New Unit on College Farm

In their quarterly meeting October 18, the Board of Regents approved plans for the construction of a modern poultry brooding building, Prof. A. Carman, head of the agriculture department, has announced.
Mr. Carman said that in spite of the high cost of feed and the increased price of labor the college farm has been able to make a profit in its poultry enterprise, thus justifying its expansion.
This building will be located on the John W. Carr tract of land just north of the campus. The building will be equipped with modern electrical equipment and heating devices.
In connection with this plant
there will also be a modern and sanitary room for dressing poultry.
Mr. Carman said the construction will begin immediately and it will be ready for use by January 1, 1945.

Volunteers Are Still Not On
Honor Roll Board

Requests are coming concerning the proper way to get the names of Calloway Volunteers on the Service men's Honor Roll in the court yard. We have no means in this office to get this done, but we are anxious that the board be completed. Eph Huie, the artist who placed the drafted list of names on the board, is willing to complete the job when he is furnished with the list of names, and the order to finish the roll.
If your son is a volunteer from this county or went into the service other than through the draft board, send his name and the date of his service record to the Ledger & Times, and we will help in getting that name to the proper person.

Christian Churches Establish Student Center
At Murray State Teachers College

Home of Disciple Center, just off College Campus

To offer religious education as extra curricula activities for Disciple students, to encourage young men to enter the ministry and young women to prepare for full-time Christian service in religious education and missionary work,
Christian Churches of Kentucky
have purchased a large house on North 5th Street near the Library. This building is to be used as a home
for young ministers and their families, as headquarters for student activities and as an office for Arthur J. Russell, secretary-director for West Kentucky. A picture of the house is shown above. The proposed program centered around this home will meet the needs of the ever increasing number of students on Murray campus, according to Mr. Russell.
Two young ministers and their families now occupy the house. Two chaplains' families will live there and participate in the program.
Two other ministers will come for next quarter. The house is being remodeled into six complete apartment offices for student and state activities and a recreation and lounge room and a prayer room.
The lounge to which all college students are invited, will have a complete kitchen and service for group dinners. The building is heated by a central heating plant which will be supervised by a college student who will make his home in the house. The lot next door will be developed into rose gardens, a victory garden and a picnic and play ground.
"The urgent need for ministers
for many West Kentucky Christian churches and for religious training for college students prompted the launching of such a program," was the report the secretary read.
It is apparent that there will be more and more college students and fewer and fewer ministers to lead out in a program which will challenge the youth of our homes,"
No church can afford to dismiss its young people from church for four years while they go to college. College days are the usual decision time for young people. It is evident that ministers and full-time Christian leaders need a full

HAZEL SCHOOL
SELECTS QUEENS
FRIDAY NIGHT

Coronation Program,
First Basketball
Game Friday, Oct. 27

Hazel High School in one of the best attended programs in the history of the school, elected the school queen and the junior queen
Friday night, October 20. Miss Leila Gray Brandon was elected to be the school queen. Little Miss Ramona Cecil was selected junior queen. Over $600.00 was netted from the program that included the sale of pies, the voting for the school queens, and the musical entertainment. Buford Hurt is principal of the school. The faculty members joined the principal in launching this program, which was acclaimed an outstanding success
both financially and socially.
The queens will be crowned at the beginning of the program at the school prom on Friday night, October 27, when the school plays her first basketball game of the season. Faxon is the visiting team. This night promises to be another night of planning. The school is arranging for a full coronation program to be in connection with the crowning of the two lovely young ladies.
Miss Brandon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandon. She is considered a leader in her scholastic work, is popular, and is active in all school programs. Miss Cecil, is seven years old, in the second grade, and is the charming little daughter of Mrs. Pauline Cecil.
Interesting Facts of Program
There are several interesting facts connected with this program.
Mrs. Kaska Jones, member of the faculty, told a reporter Monday
that in the contest for the queen,
there were 10 red headed girls out of the 11 contestants, and all the candidates were related. Out of the financial returns from the program, the Community War Fund has received $100.00. This was announced the night of the program.
Coronation Program
The program this Friday night will be attractive. All the candidates will be featured in the crowning ceremony. Miss Shirley Sue Scarborough, the runner-up for senior queen, will be maid of honor. She is the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Clyde Scarborough. Her father is in the Navy. Will Frank Stevly, V-12 student, home on leave, will be given the honor of crowning the two queens. Buster Paschall and Joe Scarbrough will be the court jesters. The flower girls will be Misses Patricia Nance, Jeanette Paschall, Elvian Poyner, and Patricia Brandon. The ladies who will attend the queen
are Misses Anne Marshall, Violetta Vick, Fay Craig, and Melba Sue Orr.

T.V.A. Chairman, David E. Lilienthal,
and Party Guests at Informal Dinner

The TVA chairman, a college president, two publishers and two business men of Tennessee and Alabama were guests of Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray College, at an informal dinner held at the Woman's Clubhouse
Thursday evening, October 12.
Besides the out-of-town guests
several men from the college,
Navy, and the city also attended the dinner. Informal talks and round-table discussion constituted
the program.
The out-of-town guests were
David E. Lilienthal, TVA chairman, Knoxville, Tenn.; Barret Shelton,
publisher of Decatur, Ala., Daily; R. E. Biggers, vice-president of an oil company in Chattanooga, Tenn.;
J. A. Keller, president of Florence,
Ala., State Teachers College; Mayor
E. H. Cough, Guntersville, Ala.; and Loye Miller, editor of the Knoxville News-Sentinel.
The visitors came by plane from Evansville, Ind., where they had attended a meeting of officials interested in the development of inland water ways. Pilots of the plane were Tom Kesterson and C.
J. Stansberry.

John Houston
Has Corn Cutter

Short of help, many Kentucky
farmers used home-made slides to cut corn this year, according to reports received at the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The college early in the season issued plans for a two-row horse-drawn cutter that could be made at home.
In Calloway county, 10 horse-drawn cutters were used. John Houston told County Agent S. V.
Ejor that he and another man cut two acres of hybrid corn in 24 hours. A blacksmith in Murray built four cutters which he sold for $25 each. One had a cradle attachment that stacked the corn.

Murray Flight Prep
Holds Top Record

Lt. Comdr. Frederick B. Hall, officer in charge of the U.S. Naval Flight Preparatory school here said "records of the Navy's central examining board show that on final examination in five subjects, the Murray units had the highest average of any of the 17
schools in the nation."
Hall said the rating was based on a survey of examination grades
in mathematics, physics, aerology, flight and engines.
Flight preparatory schools now have been disbanded, and the training is given at four pre-flight bases.

"Worship for All"

Rendering practical aid
to listeners who grapple with the cares of life!

C. E. BURNS... WHAS' newly ordained Religious Co-ordinator, is a seasoned, kindly man of the cloth, now offering an entirely new type of service to listeners. Selected from numerous candidates after a country-combing search Burns has been entrusted with an important mission.
WHAS is the first station ever to offer a sustaining broadcast service
... endowing religion with a full-time place on its staff.

"Worship for All" is what the name implies, a message with broad appeal to all ages, all creeds, churched and unchurched alike... applying the principles of religion to major problems of the day.
Heard Monday through Friday, 1:45-2:00 P.M., the service opens with a theme song especially written for it, has a brief prayer, three well known hymns and the eight-minute sermon.

Holder of degrees from Hiram College (Ohio) and the University of Chicago in religion and social sciences, Burns took a pastorate for four years, then turned to child welfare foundation work. Prior to joining WHAS he served Milligan College, Tennessee, as college pastor, dean, professor and finally president. Tempered by life, Burns has seven grown, married children with whom he recently celebrated the arrival of his 17th grandchild. "Worship for All" has been on the air only since September 1st, yet many listeners have written us their appreciation of this much needed service.

Dedicating the power of 50,000 watts
to the greatest message of all time!

This Is Better Parent Week

This week has been named as "Better Parent Week" and is being observed throughout the nation for the seventh annual year of parent-child emphasis. All who are concerned with better family living and with the welfare and happiness of children and the youth of the community are asked to consider this week.

What are the aims of the Week? Briefly quoting from George J. Hecht, publisher of the Parents' Magazine and chairman of Better Parenthood Week Committee, we give the simple aims:

To emphasize the rights of children to adequate preparation for the gigantic task of rebuilding a broken world.

To reawaken parents to the importance of guarding the health and morale of their families in the face of difficult wartime and post-war conditions.

To encourage the establishment of day-care centers for young children of working mothers and after-school supervision of school-age children.

To help prevent juvenile delinquency by promoting better community recreational facilities as well as better family relations for older boys and girls.

To lend active support to all efforts in behalf of maternal and child health, improved nutrition, better schools and vocational training, and friendlier relations between people of different origins and beliefs.

Calloway County is concerned with her children and is one county that has made rapid stride in the progress with the education and recreational interests of her children. Every high school in the county has a lunch program where children may have hot lunches daily. That is one step the parents and educational leaders have added to the program that greatly improves the facilities of the school day for children.

Most all schools have an improved recreational program, but there is still room for improvement in this field. At the present time the children have very little space provided for play during school and practically none after school. It is true that this is not an industrial center where mothers are working in defense plants and need a center to care for the children while they are at work. But we do need more indoor recreational centers than we have. Most places the high school gymnasium is used for school parties, and places of community meetings. It is looked upon as the spot of the most frequent gatherings; a place where the whole community may go each week-end for fun and games. It might be that our gymnasium could be used to get more for our money spent in taxation if we used it regularly for a youth center. So far there has been no other center provided. It is our understanding that there will be no athletic educational program in the city school this year. If only basketball is played in the modern gymnasium, then it seems that too few are being allowed to use this spot that would be wonderful for the youth center of the Murray Graded School District.

The colored children have no gymnasium. They have an auditorium that is too small to accommodate the school children's programs. This is being considered very seriously by the people of Murray. Already a committee has asked the city board of education to lend its support to the building program for the Colored children who are asking that the white people help them build an addition to the north side of the present building so they may have a gymnasium and a recreation place. The board in a meeting Thursday night heartily approved of the plan.

The county is alert to the health conditions and has revived the old program of Health Week and is planning to have a May Day program and award blue ribbons for the children who can qualify in the "good health rules." This is a step toward making good postures, good food, good teeth, vaccinations and such a style among the children.

This could be a week when parents rededicated themselves to the obligation of being parents. It would be well for every parent to hear Judge Camille Kelley, the nationally known juvenile judge of Memphis, Tenn., who will speak here Saturday afternoon. Judge Kelley is the mother of three children, including one son who is a lieutenant in the United States Navy. "The Little Judge," as she is known in Memphis, says her philosophy is to punish only when all else fails. She is credited with turning many wayward boys and girls into useful, honest citizens.

To be a good parent, requires a lot of study and prayers by parents themselves. We usually get what we pay for. So it is with parents, we have the kind of children that we pay for in the price of love, respect, companionship, confidence, and religion. Too often we "just let them grow up" and trust that all will end well. "Raising children is an old story told and retold by generation after generation—but always it is a new experience to the parents. Each child is an individual situation to be worked out and studied carefully by both mother and father. Wise parents will spend a great deal of their time in studying this job of being a parent; do a great deal of loving and directing gently. They will spend time on the serious lines of religious education. Teaching the children the love and respect for his neighbors. Teaching him the way that Jesus taught. "Suffer little children to come unto me."

All who in this our native county who are interested in children and the youth of our land, let's use this specific time to rededicate our thoughts, our aims, and ambitions to the welfare of our future citizens.

Why can't we encourage Scouting—both Boys and Girls? Why can't we encourage 4-H Club work? Let's give the Future Farmers of America a hand. Let's give our children a place to have good wholesome fun once a week. Let's invite them and the gang into our homes for some of the old time parties we used to know. Let's see that they have the best schools, the best teachers available. In conclusion, I repeat: Let's all give National Parenthood deep consideration.

A Privilege... A Duty

"Leave your plow, leave your cow, leave your sow, and go to the polls in what is one of the most precious rights and privileges that we enjoy under our democratic form of government."

Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation for a good many years, and a consistent champion of farmers' rights, made the above statement recently when he spoke to American citizens and said that the right to vote is one of our most precious possessions.

"The farmer has an obligation to harvest his crops at the proper time," said Mr. O'Neal, "but I also know that he has a duty that transcends even the obligation to produce in wartime, and that is his responsibility to contribute to good government and the national welfare by exercising his right of franchise."

Farm people carry a greater responsibility for the preservation of our great traditions of democracy than any other group. He profoundly believes that our historic tradition is deeply imbedded in the hearts of rural people.

Because of his deep attachment to the soil and to his home, the farmer is generally regarded as the backbone of American democracy. He would be the first to oppose any sentiment toward a change in the essential form of government. He wants none of dictators or government that does not allow a free will and expression of the people.

Many farmers and citizens of the fields of occupations have fallen into the error of thinking that their opinions counted for little, that their votes meant less. No state of mind could be more unfortunate just now as our country faces another national election. The issues that will be decided are of grave importance to its present and future welfare. To preserve our democratic process of government, it is necessary that the opinion of all the people—their concerted will—be demonstrated through their ballots. One man's vote counts just as much as any other's. When lines are drawn as close as they are now, one vote may decide how a state will cast its electoral vote. And the electoral vote of even one state could possibly swing the election.

The important thing for all of us to remember is that we can contribute to our country's welfare by doing our duty as good citizens and voting on November 7.

Your Vote Does Count

If someone with a lot of enterprise and energy were to take a poll of all persons who did not vote in the last national election and ask them why they did not vote, the answers would probably be something like this: "I just didn't think my vote would make much difference one way or the other in such a big election."

Even in a democracy where one man's vote counts as much as another, and where national elections have been decided several times in the past by a mere handful of voters, this type of thinking still prevails among many persons. Nothing could be further from the truth. Let us examine a few close elections in our country's history for proof.

In 1884, New York State, which then had an electoral vote of only 36 as compared to its present 47, was the deciding state in the contest between Grover Cleveland, the Democratic candidate, and James G. Blaine, the Republican candidate. Cleveland polled 563,154 votes to Blaine's 562,005, which gave him a plurality of 1,149.

In a majority of these 1,149 voters—or 575—had voted for Blaine instead of Cleveland, the Republican candidate would have had a plurality of one vote over his opponent and New York would have gone Republican. It is easy to see from these figures that a few votes make a lot of difference in some elections.

In 1916, with the United States closer and closer to the war raging in Europe, the November election was the closest in many years. Woodrow Wilson, running for a second term against Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate, went to bed late election night apparently a defeated man. The electoral vote stood thus: Republicans, 254; Democrats, 264. The report was, however, that California, where the outcome was in doubt, would go Republican. That meant that California's 13 electoral votes would be added to the Republican total of 254, making 267, or enough to carry the election.

Not until the next day did the election count in the western state show that the Democrats won by 466,200 to 462,394—plurality of only 3,806. A switch of 1,904 Democratic voters in California to the Republican side in this election would have meant that Charles Evans Hughes would have been the war president instead of Mr. Wilson.

Hardly a day goes by that the newspapers do not report an election in some community so close that a shift of only a few votes would change the result. The balance of power in many an important issue therefore often is vested in one or two persons.

It is not likely that as a voter you will be the deciding factor in this or any other election. But the fact remains that individual votes do make up the total and the total decides the election. And your vote counts as much as anyone else's. It is not only your privilege, but your duty to vote Tuesday, November 7. As a good citizen you should do nothing less.

Letter To Editor

October 16, 1944
 Winter Park, Fla.
 Editor—Ledger & Times,
 Murray, Ky.
 Dear Mrs. Hart:

It has been a long time since I took the Ledger & Times. I want to subscribe for it again so I am enclosing a check. Was going to have the paper sent to me long ago but waited until we got moved. We have been living for the past three years in Orlando, but moved back to Winter Park, Fla. Orlando—very much and sure hited to move away. Orlando is the best place in Florida.

There are plenty of soldiers around here as we have a big army base here. I suppose all the boys I know back there are in the service. I was in the Army a year and was given a medical discharge last summer. I have been to several camps. Every man about gets his turn for K.P. in the mess hall. I have been on K.P. a good many times. I have gotten up as early as 4:30 a.m. to go to the mess hall and work around there for the day. When you do K.P. you get out of doing other things for that day.

Better keep up the paper drive back there for I have seen one by the use-paper and that is for packing purposes. I have seen paper by the cartload at Robins Field, Warner Roving Co. where I was for several months. That is the best looking camp I have ever seen.

Captain Bonnie Houston will be back here this week. I don't know whether it is known there that my sister, Kathleen, got married last spring to J. T. Gandee of Winter Park. They are making their home here. Kathleen works for a law firm in Orlando and has been there for three years or more. You know, Kathleen, Mrs. Hart, her old friends in Murray will be glad to learn of her marriage. It will soon be 11 years since I was in Murray. Guess things have changed a good deal during that time. Would like to be back here again but I guess it will be years before I get to return. I have been 18 or 20 years since I was going to school to you, Mrs. Hart, and to Miss Frances Bradley and others. Kathleen works for a law firm in Orlando and has been there for three years or more. You know, Kathleen, Mrs. Hart, her old friends in Murray will be glad to learn of her marriage.

Your friend,
 James Virgil Boyd.

Editors: Note: Hello Virgil! was happy to hear from you and to know that you wanted to hear from your friends in Murray. Yes, I remember you and every member of your family. I certainly remember having you in my room at the high school, and remember that you were always very kind and good. I did not know that Kathleen was married. Give my regards to all the family. L. the 1943 period, which was also short of needs.

OPA Guards Gasoline Quality—Gasoline sold at service stations and other retail establishments at ceiling prices set for premium grades must meet a minimum octane specification of 75. OPA announces: This action has been taken to protect buyers from any attempts to sell lower grade gasolines at the higher ceiling prices established for premium grades. OPA said most sellers are offering premium grade gasoline having an octane rating not lower than 75. The announcement pointed out that at present the Petroleum Administration for war does not permit manufacture of gasoline for civilian commercial channels as premium grade to exceed 77 octane—a step necessary to maintain military supplies of higher octane fuels.

December 1 Gift Mail Deadline—December 1 is the deadline requested by the Post Office Department for mailing Christmas gifts inside the United States. Every citizen who is playing Santa Claus for loved ones and friends in other towns is urged to get that present in the mails by that date to assure proper delivery. The reason, say postal officials, is that Americans are expected to mail domestically 25 per cent more gifts than a year ago, and at a time when the Post Office has fewer employees and less well-trained holiday help than ever before. In addition, the fact that more people have moved to different addresses to do war work is expected to mean that the average distance traveled by each gift will be greater than before the war.

Christmas Street Lighting Ban—The Office of War Utilities, OWU, is asking city officials, civic clubs, chambers of commerce, merchants and citizens to dispense with outdoor lighting this Christmas, as was done in 1942 and 1943. Object of the request is to reduce electricity consumption and coal requirements. The fuel situation is most acute of the country is critical and strict conservation is required to keep war plants going full blast and homes properly heated, officials point out.

Reconversion Job Given Industry—The job of reconversion, when it comes, will be put squarely up to industry with an absolute minimum of interference from Washington, declared Edward R. Gay, Assistant Vice Chairman for Civilian Requirements in OWU, at a Boston meeting of the National Retail Furniture Association. Printing that that Government had to step in two years ago when war conversion was the prime essential. Mr. Gay said that "some day Government is going to be able to say to many manufacturers, you've done your war job. Get back to making peacetime products. We'll help you where we can, but this job is yours and it is an confident that industry will accept this challenge gladly and will do the job better than any of us in Washington could plan it."

Shoe Rationing Still Needed—Present inventories and the present rate of production of shoes will do the necessary for continued shoe rationing, the OPA and the War Production Board report. The statement pointed out that over-all production of civilian shoes of rationed types in the first half of this year was 134,065,000 pairs contrasted with 154,125,000 pairs in

Bohumir Kryl and All Girl Orchestra to Appear in Paris

KRYL WOMEN'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA of Chicago

Of unusual interest among lovers of music is the announcement issued today by the Young Business Men's Club and Music Club of Paris, Tenn., of the scheduled appearance of Bohumir Kryl and his All Girl Symphony Orchestra which has been engaged to present a concert on November 5 at 8:00 p.m. at the City Auditorium in Paris under the sponsorship of the above organization. For the past 38 years and until the end of 1942, Mr. Kryl, the Czech conductor, had toured the country with his famous symphony band and orchestra. Since Uncle Sam has called most of the personnel of his orchestra to the armed services, Mr. Kryl has inaugurated an innovation in 1943 an All Girl Symphony Orchestra.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the most distressing of functional periodic pains. Here's how it may help:

1. Takes like a tonic. It should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, and help build resistance for the "time."
2. Started 3 days before "your time." It should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic pains.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

LIMITED CIGARETTE SUPPLY - NOT DUE TO WEED SHORTAGE

The current shortage of cigarettes is not due to a shortage in the supply of cigarette tobacco, according to J. Scott True, acting chairman of the Agricultural Adjustment committee. Stocks of burley reported by dealers and manufacturers as of October 1, 1944, were valued at $45,000,000 pounds representing about 18 months supply. The latest estimate released October 1, 1944, by the Bureau of Crops and Livestock Estimates, indicate the production of 478,085,000 pounds in 1944, while total disappearance for the year ending September 30, 1944, is estimated at 431,000,000 pounds. Mr. True said:

The situation in regard to flue-cured tobacco is much the same. He added with reports from dealers and manufacturers indicating a supply of 1,187,600,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco on hand July 1, 1944. The current crop estimated as of October 1—72,280,000 pounds was more than maintain stocks of domestic manufacturers and meet exports demands. Total disappearance of flue-cured leaf during the year ending June 30, 1944, is estimated at 979,700,000 pounds.

It is to be noted that in both flue-cured and burley tobacco the main source of supply for cigarette manufacture there is a probable supply which would allow the manufacture of cigarettes for two and one-half years at present production rates.

Information coming from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, True stated, "indicates the local shortage of cigarettes are largely due to the requirements of the armed forces overseas, inability to obtain cartons and scarcity of factory labor."

IN MEMORIAM

To a dear daughter and niece who departed this life April 28, 1939

Presented in the sight of the Lord the death of His saint, Paulina (1813)

Dear Little Mae, days have gone by and still we miss you. Some may think our sorrow has healed.

Little do they know the sadness that lies in our hearts consoled.

Tears in sadness often flow, Love shall always keep you near.

Though you left us more than five years ago.

We miss you, Oh we miss you. Since the Lord has called you home. To that blessed, better dwelling. He prepares for all His own. And though our hearts are bleeding.

With this loss we're asked to bear, Still we know that God is with us. We can sense His tender care. To us, heaven now seems dearer. That it's ever seemed before. Since the Lord has called our loved one.

To abide there, ever more. Little Mae cannot come back to us. We must plan to meet her there. Where there is no pain or sorrow. Night or tears, or grief or care. Yes, we miss her; we do miss her. Still we're happy we can know. She is dwelling with our Saviour. Who is good and wills it so.

"It Does Make a Difference Who Writes Your Insurance"

"Out here I found the answer"...

"You can't live through what I've seen and not think about it. You begin to wonder if it's worth the lives of guys like Fred and Butch and Smitty. You wonder if it's worth the hell you've been through and the hotter hell you know is coming."

"You get to thinking about things at home and how much you'd like to be back there. And then some night when the guns are quiet the answer hits you like a bomb burst."

"You remember some of the history you read as a kid... about other guys like you at Valley Forge and Belleau Wood. You remember that those guys fought for the same thing you're fighting for now. That they gave you a chance at the only kind of life that's worth having... a chance to grow up and be anything you wanted to be under a real people's government. That when you get back you can pick your job, keep your religion, live where you want to and be master of your own future in a free land."

"And then you know that you don't want it any other way. That you're fighting to keep the freedom and opportunity you left behind... just the way you left it!"

"Call it 'Free Enterprise' or 'The American Way' or anything you like, mister. But don't tamper with it while I'm gone! For out here I found the answer and I want it to still add up right when I get back."

WHO

is QUALIFIED to sit at this table?

For YOUR sake, and for the sake of your children, it is MOST IMPORTANT to have the RIGHT man in this chair, at the peace table!

THE OTHER THREE MEN ARE CERTAIN TO BE THERE,

but because of America's democratic form of government only the voters on November 7th can decide who will occupy the fourth chair for these United States. Franklin D. Roosevelt alone is qualified by past experience and by his highly respected acquaintance with these Allies to occupy this chair. Your vote will decide this most important issue of the 1944 election.

THE CHRISTIAN MOTIVE FOR LIVING

International Temperance Sunday

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 4:3-8; Luke 4:4; John 8:12; Romans 13:1, 3; 13:13-14

THE MOTIVE FOR LIVING—The motive which is above—Colossians 3:1.

Disciplined living should be the goal of each of us. Life is not to be lived carelessly, influenced by chance events or passing impulses. Such discipline of life would keep men from the temptations which lead them into intemperance and sin.

A life can be properly disciplined, only as it is controlled by Christian motives. Such a life has—

I. Spiritual Gladness (Ps. 4:3-8).

The psalmist had faced the distressing questioning of men who derided him for his faith. They were unbelievers who demanded of him what good his religion did (v. 8). He has an answer, and it is the testimony of his own experience.

Those around him sought gladness in the harvest of grain and in the wine which was supposed to give a lift to their spirits. This was their joy. Well, the man of God had something infinitely superior. He had gladness in his heart. It was not dependent on outward circumstances—it was within.

Then note, too, that it did not rest on something that happened, or on some fellow man. "Thou (God) hast put gladness in my heart." That means real joy and satisfaction.

II. Spiritual Food (Luke 4:4; John 6:33).

It is delightful to have true gladness, but man needs food if he is to grow and to work. That is true spiritually, for he must have the needed nourishment of life here also.

Jesus when tempted (Luke 4:4) because He was hungry saw beyond the temporal need, and declared that life should be controlled by a higher principle. The spiritual has a place of supremacy over the physical.

The explanation of the awful alcoholic debauchery of our day is found right here. Men have given their bodies the supreme authority and they are driven by the lusts of the flesh. What they need more than legal reform or restriction of sale of liquor (and we believe in both) is the regeneration of their souls by the grace of God in Christ Jesus. Let us bring them the gospel.

John 6:35 makes known the fact that Jesus, the bread of life, satisfies every need of men. Every normal hunger and thirst finds full satisfaction in Him. Have you tried Him as the One to meet the need of your hungry heart?

III. Spiritual Service (Rom. 12:1, 2).

"Reasonable service," says the Authorized Version. "Spiritual service," says the Revised Version. Both are right. The man who is really reasonable will be spiritual and will render to God a sacrificial service.

Note that it is a "living sacrifice" that is said to be "holy, acceptable to God." This is not a case of a single act of deep devotion (great as that may be), but a going on in the daily walk to live for Christ. That calls for grace and power, and He is ready and willing to give both to each of His children.

That experience with God means a non-conformity to the world, which is a little spoken of and less practiced in the church today. The one who professes to follow Christ is simply not to be conformed to the ways of this wicked world. There is to be a completely transforming experience of the grace of God, that takes you out of this world while you are still in it.

IV. Spiritual Walk (Rom. 13:13-14).

Christians are the children of the morning. They walk in the light (I John 1:7). This world is full of darkness. No one needs any argument to prove that point—just look about you.

The deeds of darkness are evil deeds, and men dwell in darkness because they love evil (I John 3:19). That means that the children of light must walk circumspectly and "becomingly" (that's a good word) in this world. Thus we may attract others out of the darkness into the light, so that they too may put aside "reveling and drunkenness," yes, and also "trifle and jealousy." Those go together.

The way to victory is to be clothed with the Lord Jesus and His righteousness (v. 14). That is a real "armor of light" with which we may be protected.

Note also that we are studiously to avoid making any provision for the desires of the flesh. Put such things away, and with them will go the temptation to use them. Some professing Christians need to hand this word by destroying some beverages which they may have on hand—just to give one example.

B.S.U. Convention Proves Successful Here at First Baptist Church Oct. 20-22

The Murray State College Baptist Student Union was host to the Annual State Baptist Student Convention, October 20, 21, and 22 at the First Baptist Church.

The keynote of what proved to be one of the most successful meetings in B.S.U. history was "The World Christ Supreme in My World." Dr. H. Leo Eddie, man, pastor, Parkland Baptist Church, Louisville made the keynote address after the unveiling of the B.S.U. girls' choir which sang a medley.

The directing of song leader Dr. A. B. McKinney, accompanied by Rev. John J. Hamilton at the organ, Ruby Nell Brown, violin, and Hazel Babb, piano, kept the spirit of the Convention.

Student testimonies preceded the Saturday morning session address by Dr. George W. Redding, Georgetown College professor. This address was followed by group forums.

Dr. J. Perry Carter brought devotional thoughts throughout the Convention. The group forums for Saturday afternoon preceded the address by Dr. W. R. White. Jane Morris played her marimba for meditation periods following the addresses.

An informal banquet at the Woman's Club House added a note of gaiety. Even though it is believed that the football game cut the attendance for the evening session, this session was, without a doubt, one of the most outstanding sessions of the Convention.

Following a Worship Program by Murray B.S.U., Dr. J. W. "Bill" Marshall, personnel secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Va., lifted hearts when he delivered the message, "If Christ Be Lifted Up."

The Sunrise Service on the steps of the College Auditorium at 6:30 Sunday morning was well attended.

Dr. Ellis A. Fuller, President Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, brought the closing message Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. In the worship auditorium of the First Baptist Church. At the close of the service 82 young people surrendered their lives to special religious work.

The Convention was planned and directed by J. Chester Durham, State Secretary of the Baptist Student Union of Kentucky, and Rev. Braxton B. Sawyer, host pastor.

Faxon School News

We have a new teacher at Faxon, Mrs. Carter. She is replacing Miss Brandon, who was married to B.W. Springer last Saturday. We wish them much happiness.

We elected our annual staff Thursday and are making slow progress on it.

Mrs. Lois Goode is sponsor of Pauline Cunningham, editor; W. C. Colson, sports editor; Dorothy Todd, business manager; Linda Lee Dyer, photographer; Juanita Outland, typist and literary editor; Claude Ann Willoughby.

We heard from one of our boys in service, Wilford Brandon. He is in Texas.

Mr. Willoughby is sponsoring a high school play, "A Fortunate Calamity." It will be put on in a few weeks.

Several were on the honor roll last month.

The grade building was completed last week and teachers and children joyously entered their new room. We were certainly glad for them.

Recreation was conducted by Clairborn McCutcheon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maynard Ragdale on November 16. All members are urged to be present and all visitors are welcome.

Farmers in Christian country have made heavy seedings of barley, bulbo rye and mixed grains to supplement their winter feeding program.

A 'Giant' in Strength

Careful management has built the Woodmen of the World to a "Giant"—the world's financially strongest fraternal life insurance society, with assets exceeding $143,000,000.

For each $1,000 of over $387,500,000 of life insurance protection held by its members, the Woodmen Society has $370.15 of highly liquid assets—reserve quickly available for any emergency.

Safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection is highly important to Woodmen members, but they equally prize the benefits and pleasure they get from the Society's fraternal activities—Woodcraft's "protection plus" values not measurable in dollars and cents.

Let the local Woodmen representative tell you how you can secure safe, legal reserve Woodmen life insurance protection (offered to white males from birth to age 80) and also enjoy Woodcraft's fraternal and social benefits.

Where In The Bible Can I Find The Plan Of Salvation?

We are often asked the question, "Where in the Bible can I find the plan of salvation in actual operation, making saints out of sinners? Where can I put my finger on a passage and say, there it is! Shall I look in Genesis, in Psalms, in Romans, or Revelations?"

One can read the old Testament all his life without finding the plan of salvation. The law of Moses was given to the Jews and was never intended for the gentiles. People, not heeding the division between the Old and New Testament, go blindly to the old law for the plan of salvation, or for the justification of some religious practice. Hebrews 1:8-10 says, "...the taketh away the first (covenant) that he may establish the second, BY WHICH WE HAVE BEEN SANCTIFIED."

Do we believe the Old Testament? Certainly we do. It is every word the word of God, but it is a law that has fulfilled its purpose, and has been replaced by another law. (Col. 2:13-14).

Our search having narrowed down to the New Testament, let us examine it. The books of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John recorded the lifetime of Jesus. You cannot find the plan of salvation in actual operation in these books because the covenant was not yet in force. Paul says in Hebrews 9:16-17 "For a Testament is in force after men are dead; otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth." Then a salvation prior to the cross would not be a New Testament salvation, nor a church, a New Testament church. We might, however find in these books a forecast of what the plan of salvation would be (see Mark 16:15-16) but not the plan in actual operation.

Now from Romans to Revelations we have a group of letters written to people who are already saved. We could not expect the plan of salvation to be found in actual operation saving SAVED people. We might find the apostles calling to the mind of the saved what they had done when they were saved (Rom. 6:3-4, Gal. 3:26-27).

Having failed to find the plan in operation in the Old Testament; in the first four books of the New; nor from Romans to Revelations, we turn to the one remaining book in the Bible: Acts of the Apostles. Jesus had commanded them to go make disciples. Here they go, making disciples. Let's go with them. Let's read the book which records the actions of the apostles. In reading the book we find the plan of salvation in actual operation making saints out of sinners no less than eight times. We beg you to turn and study these passages: Acts 2:1-47; Acts 8:4-24; Acts 8:24-48; Acts 9:1-20 and 22:1-18; Acts 10:1-11:18; Acts 16:12-15; Acts 16:25-34; Acts 18:1.

Comment upon these passages would be useless. In them one can clearly see the plan of salvation in actual operation. The plan of salvation today is exactly as it was in the days of the apostles. Any other plan is worthless. People, then, snarling heard, and believed the gospel. They repented of their sins, confessed the name of Jesus and were baptized for the remission of sins.

Kind reader, let us plead with you to cast aside every weight and hindrance and obey with humbleness and faith the plan of salvation recorded in the scriptures, and become simply a Christian.
